Cheung Kong Receives the “National Enterprise Environmental Achievement Award”

(29 April, 2009 – Hong Kong) – In recognition of its contributions to environmental protection, Cheung Kong (Holdings) Limited (“CKH”) has again received the “National Enterprise Environmental Achievement Award” from the Hong Kong Environmental Protection Association (“HKEPA”) this year. This follows from the “Hong Kong Enterprise Environmental Achievement Award” that CKH received last year from the same organization.

CKH actively supports environmental protection across its businesses. Its property management companies, namely Citybase Property Management Ltd (“Citybase”) and Goodwell Property Management Ltd (“Goodwell”), are committed to environmentally-friendly practices that help to ensure green living environments for their residential and commercial occupants. The environmental protection efforts of Citybase and Goodwell have been well-recognized and they have received various environmental awards, including the “Hong Kong Awards for Environmental Excellence” and the “Hong Kong Eco-Business Awards” from the Environmental Protection Department, the “Environmental Care Silver Award” from the Hong Kong Institute of Marketing and the “Best Landscape Award” from the Leisure and Cultural Services Department.

The “National Enterprise Environmental Achievement Award 2008” was organized by HKEPA. For the first time, the judging committee consisted of environmental protection associations from over one hundred universities, environmental scholars, provincial and municipal certification organizations, research and accreditation organizations, university professors, celebrities and the media. The committee reviewed criteria in environmental, social and economic sustainability and shortlisted outstanding national enterprises for comprehensive assessment. Awardees will be entrusted with the mission of continuously enhancing corporate social and environmental responsibility in China in order to promote sustainable development of the economy and environment.
